WORLD'S FAIR DEDICATION.

St. Louis, April 22.—A salute of one hundred guns will announce to the world, at noon, April 30, the close of the first century of an inland empire that Napoleon sold for a song.

Seldom in the official life of a great democratic nation will the pomp and pageantry of monarchy have been so overshadowed as in the dedication of the international exposition to commemorate that event.

One of the most impressive military spectacles of peaceful times will sweep through the metropolis of the Louisiana domain—a glittering display of arms and men, at the zenith of the republic's power.

Kings, emperors and potentates send their ambassadors to swell the homage of this people to the genius that, by bloodless conquest, gave to the country a territory one-third the size of all Europe.

For the first time in the history of the government, the entire diplomatic corps leaves the Capital on a special train to travel into the heart of the nation.

The presence of the President of the United States, his Cabinet, Congress and the Supreme Court, at the head of the armed column, is intended to symbolize a government by the people and its achievements.

Orders have been issued by the War Department to mobilize in the vast buildings of the Exposition, 4,000 regulars. The powerful monitor Arkansas is ascending the historic river, once claimed by De Soto in the name of the Spanish sovereign.

Governors of states are picking their crack militia regiments for a brave show.
Ten thousand stalwart types of the volunteers of the future are burningish their weapons for this day of dignitaries.
The Universal Exposition is the mouthpiece of this vague unrest; its christening, with glory of military panopy, stately ceremony and reign of fire by night, is the opening page of the fair book.

That the national government might be interpreted as stamping its approval on an enterprise that has cost it more than six millions of dollars, Major-General Corbin will marshal the parade from its starting point in St. Louis to the palace of the Ivory City.

Estimates by the passenger departments of 29 railroads converging at St.
Louis, indicate the attendance at the dedication of from 250,000 to 300,000 visitors.
Arrangements for transporting the 500,000 persons who are expected to view the parade and the dedicatory review, on the Exposition grounds, present a schedule of 15 seconds between the delivery of visitors at the gates of the Exposition.

Three days will be crowded with incident. National Day falls on April 30, when the President dedicates the World's Fair.

Hon. T. H. Carter of the World's Fair National Commission will be president of the day. Addresses will be made by President Francis of the exposition, President Roosevelt, former President Cleveland and others.

International Day follows on May 1.
Addresses by the French and Spanish ambassadors and a reception to the diplomatic corps are the features. Hon. J.
H. Thurston, member of the World's Fair National Commission, will be president of the day.

State Day, May 2, concludes the celebration. Governor Benjamin B. Odell, of New York, and Governor A. M.
Dockery, of Missouri, will make addresses; a great civic procession will move over the route of the military parade and the corner stones of State buildings will be laid.

Hon. Wm. Lindsay, of the World's Fair National Commission, will be president of the day.

Dedication night and the evening of May 1, the Pains will monopolize the heavens. Their display of pyrotechnics, under their contract with the exposition, calls for the explosion of $55,000 in burning powder. Leo Stevens, the Stanleys of London, the Baldwin brothers will manipulate seven mammoth gas balloons at a great altitude, where the most startling fire works exhibition is to be given.

The monitor Arkansas will anchor on the river front of St. Louis, April 26, lying there until after the last day of the dedication. The largest war vessel that ever ascended to the World's Fair city will be visited by thousands of persons who have not seen one of the fighting ships.

At 10 o'clock the morning of Dedication Day, the freedom of the city will be tendered to President Roosevelt by Mayor Rolla Wells. The military parade will be assembled under the direction of Grand Marshal Corbin at the junction of Grand and Lindell Boulevards and begin to march at 10:30, preceded by the President of the United States and the distinguished guests, in carriages.

The route is two miles through the finest residence sections and Forest Park

MRS. IDA McDONALD, Supreme Deputy of the Maccabees of the World.

MRS. McDONALD,
No. 477 Beaubien
Street, Detroit,
Mich., is a prominent woman who was greatly benefited by the great woman's medicine, Wine of Cardui. Mrs.
McDonald is the supreme deputy of the Maccabees of the World, and one of the most widely known women in the United States. Thousands of women gather to hear her lecture everywhere she goes.
The great work she has done for the Maccabees is appreciated by every member of the order. She was so absorbed in her work that she neglected to give her health proper care—failed to take warning that the symptoms of approaching kidney trouble gave her.
The fallow complexion and torpid liver.
But Wine of Cardui cured her the same as it has cured thousands of others and Mrs. McDonald has written this letter in order that other suffering women may secure from Wine of Cardui the same relief she got from it.

that I must do something to regain my health. A friend advocated your Wine of Cardui treatment so strongly that I decided to try it, although I had little faith in patent medicines.
I am now very thankful that I did so, for within ten days bleeding relief came to me, and in less than three months I was cured, and have enjoyed fine health ever since. I know there is nothing better for a sick woman who wishes to enjoy perfect health and am very pleased to give my heartiest endorsement.

No suffering woman can afford to ignore such a letter as Mrs. McDonald writes. Her plans and advice have proved valuable in building up one of the greatest women's organizations in the United States and she takes time to give advice which she knows will help you.
Do not delay in securing this medicine. There is nothing to gain and everything to lose by delay. The choice is before you. Will or will you not secure relief now by taking Wine of Cardui? All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui as well as 25c packages of Theodor's Black-Draught.

"For four years I suffered with torpid liver until my skin looked yellow and dull.
I then found my kidneys were affected and had severe pains across my back, and I felt

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.
